DESTINATION 190

Like a complicated soap opera, the manner in which something will end is never quite known. Moving through life is like a long and winding journey, in which one never knows the eventual outcome. Sometimes there is a questioning of where the path is leading. However, as one pursues the shining speck of light in the distance, one hopes that at the end of the darkness is the desired destination.

In Pursuit Of . . .

Sleigh bells ring, are you listening?

Winter brought snow, perhaps a little more than desired. A record amount fell in the Chicagoland area.

Although sometimes chilled to the bone, students found time to conquer the "white demon" by participating in sleigh rides, snowball fights, and skiing.

Below: Sleigh and sturdy team, driven by Mr. Bill Remus of Remus Farms on Route 6 in Hobart, bear sub-zero temperatures to participate in students' winter frolic.

Above: Carmen Arriaga, junior, "warms up" her snowman with a kiss. The hat and the kiss unfortunately did not make him come alive.

Top: Prime Minister Menahem Begin (Israel) and President Anwar el-Sadat (Egypt) meet face to face for the first time in November.

'All we know is what's in the papers'

The desire for "Peace on Earth and Goodwill Toward Men" was certainly sparked in November of 1977 when Egyptian Prime Minister Anwar el-Sadat made the first step toward a lasting peace in the Middle East by visiting Israel. However, negotiations became an "on again, off again" affair.

The entertainment world lost two superstars with the deaths of Bing Crosby and Elvis Presley. Movies were "spaced out" with "Star Wars" and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."

Far left: The "King of Rock n' Roll," Elvis Presley at a 1973 concert. The star died in August 1977.

Below: Chanting the Warrior war cry, senior Kirk Teitge leads a sectional pep session group.

Right: Minnesota Fats? No, freshman Darrell Robertson takes aim on a sea of green felt at the Stardust in Merrillville.

We're 'gonna' have good times!

Having a good time most often constitutes "different 'strokes' for different folks." Perhaps it might mean a night at the local bowling alley, or participating in a 'spiritful' assembly during the school day. Whether in school, or out, pleasure usually means someone else's company.

New additions to the school helped to encourage a "warm" atmosphere. Friends gathered around tables in the newly decorated cafeteria. Programs were scheduled into the new auditorium to promote "pleasureful" experiences.

Local bowling alleys, recreation centers and pizza "joints" were also a source of student activity.

Wondering where to "hang out" on a Saturday night? And more important, who you should spend the time with?

After the hours of class work, the homework, and grueling sports practices and the after school club meetings are over, there is bound to be "some" time left for pure pleasure.

With only a limited amount of time available, that time could be used wisely. Perhaps, time could be utilized in vigorous exercise, or reading the dictionary and other reference books. However, many students probably enjoy something a little less "muscle building" or "egg-headish."

How can one pursue the pleasureable side of life? One way might be through student life. All of those after school activities like dances, carnivals, banquets, concerts and plays that make the academic part bearable.

In Pursuit Of . . . PLEASURE

Right: Tug of War teams are at the end of their rope. The contest was undecided due to a broken rope and rubber hose.

Below: Diamonds (rhinestones?) are a girl's best friend, at least to Joni Simko, junior and queen Patti Ensweiler, senior.

'Not a fit night out . . .'

"Rain, rain, go away . . ." Students experienced a somewhat soggy Homecoming on October 7.

Due to a heavy downpour, the crowning of the queen, usually performed on the field, was forced indoors.

The reigning queen in 1978 was senior Patti Ensweiler. Patti participated in Pep Club, Student Council, and Varsity Cheerleading. Her escort was senior Mike Sweeney.

Other participants and their escorts in the court included seniors Teri Garret and John Osborne, Leigh Lynch and Dan Brubaker, Toni Sosnowski and John Steele.

Members of the Senior-Sophomore Team won the Powder Puff game 14-6. The Junior Class won first place in the float competition.

Left: Escaping the rainfall on the field, the queen and court retreat to indoors where Debbie Stevenson, graduate, performs crowning honors.

Below right: Exclaiming that they are not "just another bunch of pretty faces," male seniors build a Powder Puff pyramid.

Sis-boom-bah, what spirit!

What is spirit? A pom pon waving in the air? Colorful signs lining the hallway? A student dressed in Indian attire trying to electrify the crowd? The term may not be definable, but it was displayable during Spirit Week.

During the week students participated in parades, games and dressed in costume for each of the five school days.

Junior Class members captured first place in the second annual Almost Anything Goes competition with a total of 50 points.

A broken rope proved the downfall for Tug of War hopefuls. The event was disqualified when no substitute, for the rope, could be secured.

The event held from October 3 to 7 included "Hillbilly Day," "50s Day," "Sports Day," "Mourning Day," and "School Colors and Paper Bag Day."

Left: Rain trickles down as students make an effort to tape tissue flowers to a "slightly soggy" surface.

Underneath the mistletoe last night

Christmas trees, twinkling lights and (every lover's favorite) mistletoe were props used at the 1977 turnabout dance, Candlelight Reflections, held in the school cafeteria on December 10.

"Soul Express," an area band, played for the occasion which was sponsored by Health Occupation (H.O.).

Spasoff Studio in Gary provided photographs for couples attending the affair.

Proceeds from the dance were used by organization members to help finance their trip to state competition in Indianapolis in the Spring.

Right: Reviewing the contents of the 1977 "Chieftain," students leaf through their copies to check for pictures of friends.

New 'additions' new 'editions'

Many areas of the school were targets for new "additions" in construction. The yearbook staff also presented its new construction in the Fall. The new "edition" of the 1977 "Chieftain."

While some CHSers worked at summer jobs, others "caught some rays" while basking in the hot summer sun. During all of this student activity the cafeteria was getting a "face lift."

New tables, chairs, paneling, wall paper, and wall-to-wall carpeting were added to enhance the cafeteria decor.

Work on the new auditorium began in the Fall of 1976 and continued through the Winter of 1978.

The Yearbook Dance was held on September 7. Students gathered in the fieldhouse foyer for the sock hop and to obtain their copy of the book.

Hi Mom, Dad! What's next? A college?

Fall visits were made by college representatives, university personnel and parents during the school year.

Is there life after high school? Students gathered in the fieldhouse foyer to talk with representatives from nineteen colleges and universities about educational opportunities following graduation.

Students were able to browse through pamphlets at tables manned by college representatives. The visiting professionals also spoke with CHS'ers about the advantages of their educational institutions.

Is there life after report cards? Parents gathered at CHS in November to chat with faculty members about class requirements and procedures. During the half-day session parents luncheoned with teachers in the newly remodeled cafeteria, and visited from room to room.

Becoming culture conscious

"Plié anyone?" A colorful presentation of "Coppelia" was performed by the Indianapolis Ballet Company on April 17. The folk ballet was staged in Calumet's new auditorium.

The new drama facility was opened three days earlier when Dean Scott, a CHS graduate, presented an introduction to the ballet. The dance program was designed to prepare students for the Indianapolis' Ballet's visit scheduled for the next week.

On April 18 the South Carolina Theater presented a skit entitled "Great Moments in the White House." The program featured Milton Dickson, and Kelly Champion.

Milton Dickson, a thirty year veteran of the theatre, has appeared on Broadway and television. His credits also include providing the character voices for "Deputy Dawg" and "The Hillbilly Bears."

Fair turnout for Fun Fair

"Step right up . . . try your luck . . . three shots for a quarter." Ah, yes, another year, another Fun Fair.

Several clubs sponsored booths at the annual Fun Fair held on March 22 in the field-house foyer. Along with the "old standby" games and activities, new concepts were included. Jeff Welch, sophomore, was the "lucky winner" of the C-Teens raffle. Jeff won a "Saturday Night Fever" album.

Chuck Linder, graduate, was the recipient of an expensive cap. The graduate won a hat decorated with $10 worth of coins. The raffle was sponsored by the Senior Class.

Other money-making profits included: "Test your Strength," C-teens; a crap table, German Club; "Coinology" (a coin toss), Biology Club; "Roulette Wheel," Health Occupations; "The Ring Toss," Sophomore Class; a cake walk sponsored by Student Council and a kissing booth by the Junior Class.

Ok smart guy, join up!

Being a member of National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll is more than just bringing both a pencil and paper to class. Both honorary organizations sponsored spring activities.

Staffers "chowed down" at their first Journalism Honors Banquet sponsored by Quill and Scroll. The dinner was held at Bianchi's restaurant on Ridge Road.

Ramiro Muro, senior, was named Post Tribune Most Valuable Staffer and Jill Dayhoff received the Hammond Times underclassman award. Other awards were given to contributions on the yearbook and newspaper.

Calumet's chapter of National Honor Society held their annual Spring induction ceremony in the new auditorium. The group inducted 22 new members into the honorary.

Variety is the spice of life

"There's no biz like show biz!" A potpourri of talent was unveiled when the Student Council sponsored a Variety Show on Wednesday, April 26.

Skits, vocals, dances, combos, and even a stand-up comic were acts included in the program held in the new auditorium. For the first time, there were no prizes awarded to the performers. Thus, the council changed the name from Talent to Variety Show.

The acts included a dance by "The Pastels;" "Mrs. Leroy's Candy Store;" a skit; a musical combo by "Love Corporation;" "Just Clowning Around;" a comedy routine; a vocal by the "Twin Tones;" a dance by "Hot;" a skit on smoking and Glaucoma; a dance by "Spice;" a musical combo by "Sweet Poison;" and "Time in a Bottle," a single vocal.

A very formal occasion!

Formals and tuxes were the attire for the evening at the Annual Junior-Senior Prom. The dance was held for the first time in the Chris Traicoff gymnasium on April 28.

The formal affair was sponsored by the Junior Class. LaVerne Sanders served as Prom Committee Chairperson.

Juniors Mark Brinkley and Janet Guined were crowned King and Queen of the annual dance which was attended by approximately 95 couples.

"Stonewood Fox," an area band, provided the music for the dance. Dinner was catered by Margo's.

Eat, drink and be honored

Awards honoring seniors were presented for the first time at the Senior Banquet at San Remo on May 2.

Seniors gathered with faculty and administration to feast and honor members of their class. Students receiving awards included Donna Ferguson and Janis Brubaker, valedictorian and salutatorian, who received necklaces with the title of their achievement engraved. Janis was also the recipient of the English award.

Carrie Denault was honored with a Spanish award. Alex Azcona received the Baush and Lomb award for his participation in the science area. Patrick Shrader received a journalism certificate for placing first in the annual Quill and Scroll Current Event Quiz at Calumet. Patti Ensweiler, Leigh Lynch, and Kim Wertz were honored for their participation in cheerleading during their high school years.

Other certificates were awarded for attendance, Variety Show participation and to the members of the top ten percent.

Grads, toss those tassels

"What side does the tassel go on? Who am I supposed to be behind? Oh no! They will probably call out my middle name."

Seniors gathered in the processional on Sunday, May 21 for commencement exercises in the Chris Traicoff Fieldhouse.

Parents, friends, and neighbors listened for familiar names as they were announced and diplomas distributed.

Donna Ferguson and Janis Brubaker delivered the valedictory and salutatory speeches to the 251 seniors. The class history was explained by Kirk Teige, class president. Mike Buker, vice-president of the class, gave the welcome speech. Leigh Lynch, class secretary, delivered the appreciation speech.

Diplomas were presented by Mr. Robert Joseph, principal, and Mr. Herbert Abramson, superintendent of Lake Ridge Schools.

What is the recipe for "spice" to student life? Clubs and organizations provide much of the entertaining aspects of school.

Involvement was often one good way of relieving boredom. Many organizations sponsored or participated in the major activities of the year. Homecoming events and the Fun Fair were two major activities.

What is the recipe? A "pinch" of Biology Club, a "dab" of Warriorettes, a "sprinkle" of Pep Club and a "dash" of Sprech Club all add up to a variety of student involvement.

In Pursuit Of . . . INVOLVEMENT

Some never need hide a report card

"Got the grades?" Some of those that did, joined National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll Society. Both groups are the only honorary organizations in high school.

National Honor Society had 22 inductees at their annual initiation ceremonies held in the Spring. The program, for the first time, was held in the new auditorium.

The organization also held a social hour on April 25 at Obies Restaurant. Money for the banquet was raised by selling candy during the school lunch hours.

Quill and Scroll Society held their first honors banquet in the Spring for members of the yearbook and newspaper staffs. Awards were given during the dinner at Bianchi's Restaurant to honor outstanding contributions to the publications.

Show biz is our life!

Is variety the spice of life? Thanks to the Student Council students had a chance to display their talents in Calumet High School's "Variety Show." The program was held in the Calumet auditorium. In past years the event was a talent show, but the council eliminated the competition from the program this year.

The organization also arranged Homecoming events. During the Spirit Week the group sponsored "Almost Anything Goes," which was a series of competition games in which class representatives were entered. The juniors captured first place honors.

Also during Homecoming the organization sponsored a "Pumpkin Carving Contest" in the fieldhouse. Sophomore Vincent Luna proved a "sharp" winner in this competition.

The third major activity sponsored by Student Council was the Fun Fair in March. Several clubs and organizations set up booths in the fieldhouse foyer. The council presented a cake walk at the affair.

Along with Health Occupations (H.O.) the Council also participated in a successful Blood Drive in which they collected 96 pints for the Red Cross.

Languages 'la topic'

What do foreign languages and the Bible have in common? Simple! The "holy book" was translated, but originally written in a foreign tongue.

Calumet High School's Sprech Club, sponsored by Mrs. Louise Vale, sold class wristbands to earn funds for the club's treasury. The group held a Christmas party in December during school hours in the cafeteria.

CHS' German Club traveled to Germany during Spring Vacation. The students visited approximately eight cities. The club also used treasury funds to subscribe to a German publication.

Bible Rap members met every three weeks and discussed various religions. Mr. George Ahlgrim, club sponsor, offered interpretation concerning the Bible along with group members.

Rap members also discussed life styles, morality and religion's role in society.

Scientists social search

Forget your slide rule and Bunsen burner, the Biology and Chemistry Club Projects this year were more "social oriented."

Biology Club sponsored the "coinology" booth at the Fun Fair held in March. One of their yearly projects included typing their own blood.

Chemistry Club members traveled to Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company on April 25. Several of the organization members participated in Civil Defense exercises for tornado drills in the high school.

'Ms,' watch us a female press

A woman's work is never done. At least that is the way it was for the "Warrior" newspaper's all female staff. For the first time in five years, the publication was a girl's domain.

The staffers missed only one deadline during the year, due to a heavy snowfall.

For the first time the staff instituted the sale of patron ads three times during the year. The group encouraged area businesses to support the teams during football Homecoming and basketball sectional. The ads were also sold for the senior issue of the publication.

Hey, 'We're in the money'

If "Money makes the world go around," then the yearbook staff was spinning the globe in 1978. The group sold two extra pages of advertisements and exceeded their budget by $240. The extra amount was used to purchase the color cover for the book. Therefore, the budget for the 1978 book amounted to over $6,500.

The group began the long grind in September with the yearbook distribution and dance held in the fieldhouse foyer.

Staffers experienced a mild five percent drop in sales during their fall campaign. The group also sold over 75 patron ads to parents, faculty and students.

During the second semester the staff added four new members in the photography and clubs areas.

Projects lend helping hand

Baskets full of good will were the major community projects of Calumet C-Teens during the school year. The group collected canned goods during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday seasons for distribution to area needy families. Industrial Cooperative Education (I.C.E.) worked with the group in distributing the Baskets.

C-Teens members made toys during the Easter season for children in an area orphanage. The group also caroled through the halls of a convalescent home and visited with the elderly during Christmastime.

Group members traveled to Wicker Park in May for a picnic and recreation.

Mrs. Barbara Sadja received some assistance during the school year. Mrs. Kit Hunter, for the first time, served as a co-sponsor of the organization.

Clubs stress office, sales

While choosing a career, pounding a keyboard, or clerking at a counter, two vocational organizations at Calumet provided opportunities in office and sales.

Office Education Association (OEA) sponsored their annual Spaghetti Dinner in the school cafeteria during the Winter. Proceeds were used to send students to regional and state competitions.

Seniors Lucy Lowe, Terri Garrett, and Chris Gora received first place honors in regional competition. Terri also placed third in the state contest and was the only member to travel to national competition in Detroit.

Distributive Education Cooperative of America (DECA) attended a regional competition in Valparaiso. Senior Robert Beal placed second in the job interview category.

They're out for blood

"A student's work is never done," especially if that student is a member of Health Occupations (H.O.) or Industrial Cooperative Education (I.C.E.). Both clubs are affiliated with the vocational departments at Calumet.

The most recent activity added to H.O.'s list of projects was the Red Cross Blood Drive in the Spring. H.O., along with Student Council, sponsored the activity and raised 96 pints of blood at the school.

The health organization sponsored its second annual Christmas dance, "Candlelight Reflection," a semi-formal affair in the fieldhouse.

H.O. members raised funds for tests by selling popcorn balls and candy.

I.C.E. participated with C-Teens members in the annual distribution of baskets for area needy during the Christmas holidays.

Show biz off skids

The show must go on? The old adage was difficult for the Drama Club to achieve during the year. However, the Girls Glee Club "tuned up" for several performances.

Drama students began rehearsing for the play "Arsenic and Old Lace," but postponed the production because completion was delayed on the new auditorium.

Dancing groups from the club provided entertainment at the Junior High School Wrestling Banquet and a Christmas Reading Theatre for senior citizens.

Calumet's Girls Glee Club participated in the Spring Concert with the Band. Selections for the concert included, "They Call the Wind Miria," "Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair" and "Danny Boy."

Members make merry music

Trumpets blared, cymbals clashed and drums beat out the rhythm for the Calumet Band as they participated in Christmas and Spring Concerts, contests and sports events.

Tag Day was the group's major fund raising activity which was held in October. Proceeds were used to purchase music, repair instruments and the purchase of new equipment.

Pep Band was present at six football halftime programs and eleven basketball games.

Band members made their Spring Concert debut in the new auditorium. The group featured selections from Hollywood, Broadway and television.

Travolta, eat your heart out

"Disco Fever" not only swept the nation, but also Calumet's pom pon waving Warriorettes. The group marched to several disco tunes during the year, as they performed at football and basketball halftimes.

The pom pon squad also held their annual concert in April. The girls performed before an audience in the Chris Traicoff Gymnasium.

Participating in parades was one of the major activities of the group. The squad marched in the Village Christmas Parade, the Benton Harbor Michigan Annual Blossom Time Parade and the Longfellow Little League Parade in the community.

The Warriorettes raised money in the Fall by participating in Tag Day with the school band. Funds were also raised by the group from ticket sales for the Spring Concert.

Squad weathers the storms

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow, nor "hail"

Kept the cheerleaders from delivering their "yell."

Every type of weather imaginable plagued the Varsity Cheerleaders. The group wore rain coats during football downpours, and "painter's pants" and mittens when the temperature dropped.

The varsity squad suffered the loss of two active members following the football season. Juniors Janice and Johanna Sutton moved from the community and left two vacancies.

Senior Kim Wertz, who was first alternate, was added to the varsity. Junior Cindy Cervantes moved up from the Junior Varsity to fill one of the vacancies.

Hey man, beat 'em!

"Coach, what's it all about?" Spirit is a conscious effort on the part of the Junior Varsity and Freshman cheerleading squads, and also the school pep club.

The squad attended the United States Cheerleading Association (USCA) in Valparaiso and returned with three second, two third and one fifth place ribbons.

Freshman cheerleaders received five second place ribbons and one ribbon for a pom pon routine.

Pep Club sold T-shirts, spirit hats and balloons during football and basketball seasons.

Weeks of exhausting practices and a restless night of tossing and turning before that big game are an intricate part of the physical and psychological preparation of every athlete. However, when the gun sounds, the buzzer signals and the whistle blows, everyone relies on the athlete to perform.

The coach yells, "It's up to you kid! Go get 'em!"

The student leaps from the bench, recites a brief prayer and hopes that all of those practice hours will pay off.

Victory! The team, along with the crowd that is cheering them on, are in pursuit of victory.

Suddenly the student awakens from a dreamlike state. The game is over and the fans are cheering! The coach praises, "You were great kid. We won the game! We have a victory!"

Taking a long route home

Long distance running for the tape is a very individual effort. Ramiro Muro, senior, perfected his goals during the Cross Country season. The senior was named All-Conference at the conclusion of the season.

The team, as a whole, improved their conference standings in 1977.

Awards to participants were given at the Fall Sports Banquet, sponsored by the Athletic Boosters. Ramiro Muro was named "Most Valuable Player" and recognized as a four year letterman.

Leo Muro, junior, was given a trophy for his contribution as a three year letterman.

Tennis anyone? Calumet gained more confidence during its third season and posted its best record to date.

The netters played twelve area teams during the season. Mr. Joe Starkey served as varsity coach for the second season.

Juniors Jeff Markovich and Rick Hatler were the team's number one doubles players. Tony Tauber, junior, was the Warriors' number one singles competitor.

Tony Tauber was also honored at the Fall Sports Banquet, sponsored by the Athletic Boosters. Tony was named "Most Valuable Player" at the awards dinner.

Gridders got reason to groan

Despite an increase in the size of the football squad, the "force" just wasn't with the Warriors in 1977. The team was unable to obtain a win for the second straight year.

Coach Lou Lindinger completed his first full year as head coach of the Warriors. The gridiron coach has been trying to build the football program into a "tight" unit that will instill the same basic fundamentals from the junior high team on through the high school squads.

Following the season, Rick Derr, senior, was named All-Conference. At the Fall Sports Banquet Senior Mike Bowers was named "Most Valuable Player."

The 'force' just wasn't with us!

"The early football player catches the . . ." For the first time the Freshman and Varsity Football squads began the grueling pre-season conditioning at the same time as the Varsity team.

The freshman also began the season with a new grid-iron staff. Coach Chuck Cole and Coach Robert Mizera headed the frosh team. Mr. Doug Stairwicz served as a coach for the Junior Varsity squad.

Injuries plagued both squads during the season. Players were hurt in practices, as well as during game play.

Our volleyball sports family keeps growing

There were two new arrivals that greeted the Volleyball participants in '77.

New JV Coach Mrs. Debbie Gulley took over, and Mrs. Mary Ann Nickoloff "retired" temporarily to add a baby boy to her family.

Chris Gora, senior, was one of the top attention "getters" on the Varsity squad. Chris was honored when she was selected All-Conference. The senior was also voted team captain by her fellow players.

Warriors 'sizzled'

What is a great incentive for basketball? A steak? Coach Carl Tricoff generously rewarded his Warrior Varsity squad with a steak dinner every time they were able to successfully keep their opponents under 50 points. The ploy probably proved successful, because the coach was able to capture a 12-6 record on the season.

The Warriors beat Crown Point's Bull Dogs during sectional action, but the Warriors were defeated by Merrillville (second in the state) in the finals.

Senior Mike Seberger was named All-State Center, as well as receiving All-Conference honors. Rick Hatler, junior, was also named All-Conference.

Basketball 'bounces' on all levels

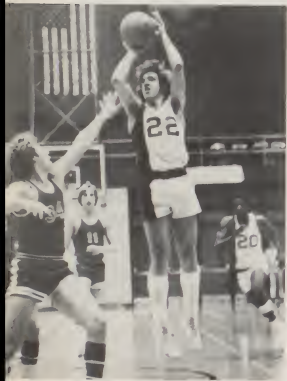

Sophomores were in abundance on the Junior Varsity Basketball squad during the season. The team had only one junior, Gene Southard, participating.

Michael Pruitt, sophomore, captured leading scorer honors for the season. Teddy Coopwood, sophomore, was the squad's leading rebounder. Mr. Randy Harkabus served as JV coach.

Mr. Joe Olis served as coach for the Boys Freshman Basketball team. Ed Keck was freshman leading scorer during seasonal play. Tom Seberger, freshman, was leading rebounder for the Warrior squad.

Short on senior power

A senior shortage "shot" the Girls Varsity Basketball Team's chances for a winning season in 1978. The squad had to settle for only five wins during season play.

The young team sported only two seniors on the squad. Robbin Green, one of the upperclassmen, captured All-Conference honors for the team. Becky Knowles, even though only a sophomore, helped to "brighten" hopes for the future when she received "Honorable Mention" from the Conference committee.

According to Coach Robyn Payne, the staff is anticipating improvement next season when this very "young" squad matures.

Underclassmen 'grasp' duties

Senior wrestlers were a non-existent commodity at Calumet during the 1977-78 season.

Keith Miller, junior, proved an outstanding grappler when he finished third in semi-state competition. This was the second year that Keith accomplished this feat. The junior was awarded most valuable wrestler, along with a trophy for the quickest pin during the season at the Winter Sports Banquet held in the cafeteria.

Juniors Keith Miller, Jessie Hardin, Bret Etheridge, and Chris Moisoff captured firsts in sectional competition held at Calumet. Keith Miller was CHS' only first in regional action which was also held on Calumet's mats.

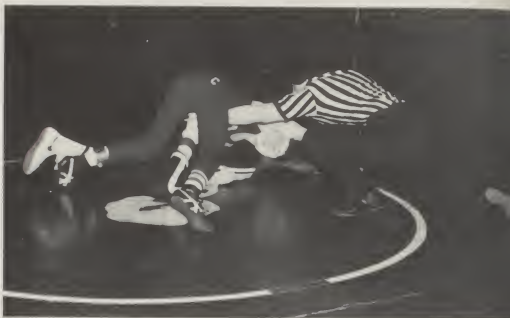

The grapplers finished their season with a 6-4 record in dual meets.

Squads change coaching staffs

Changes in coaching positions proved to be the biggest story in freshman and JV Wrestling during the year. Mr. Ken Stigall, faculty member at Longfellow Elementary, was new grappler JV coach.

Mr. Fred Sanchez served as freshman wrestling coach. The frosh squad managed two in the Conference tournament. Placing first were Tom Tharp and Norman Williams. Alan Estrada was awarded Most Valuable Freshman wrestler at the Winter Athletic Booster Club Banquet.

Kacher shows Valpo batmen no-hit action

Senior Al Kacher's no-hit-ter was the highlight of the baseball season. The senior's efforts came in the month of May against Valparaiso.

The squad managed to increase their offensive attack during the season. However, pitching proved to be one of the team's weakest areas.

Offensive action held up for the Warriors during the season, and allowed the batmen to clinch second place in the Conference standings.

Number ten proves lucky

For the first time in ten years, Calumet captured sectional honors, and became Conference Champions.

Due to outstanding participation by seniors Ramiro Muro, Joe Blackwell, juniors Rick Hatler, Billy Phillips, and Bob Schoon, the team finished with a 10-4 record.

During seasonal action, CHS beat state ranked Highland, won the Griffith Relays and placed second in the Calumet Invitational.

Honored at the Spring Sports Banquet were Rick Hatler, Most Valuable; Joe Blackwell, Most Improved; Ramiro Muro, Most Dedicated; and John Steele, Best Attitude.

Striving to break the tape

Know a "Jack of all trades?" The Girls Varsity Track Team had many as squad members found it necessary to sometimes compete in events to which they were unaccustomed during the season.

The team had only 16 members participating in both track and field events.

Exceptional performances on the squad were credited by coaches to Robbin Greene, senior, who ran the quarter mile, 880, relays and 880 medley. Robbin also participated in the shot put and 80 yard hurdles. Another senior contributing to the squad was Linda Hernandez who ran the 440 yard dash and the 440 in the medley.

Wendy Rumba, sophomore, along with Linda Hernandez and Robbin Greene turned in new records during the '78 season.

Janice Johnson, junior, was the most valuable member.

Keep your eye on the ball!

Linksmen were unfortunately a little off "course" this season as the golf team struggled along with only six squad members.

Tim Spears, senior, was the number one participant on the team. The senior turned in the best Calumet score in sectional action. Tim finished the match with a 77 at the Lake Hills Country Club in Saint John.

Mr. Joe Olis, a faculty member at Lake Right Junior High, served as varsity coach for the second year.

*Singles,

Court excitement quickened its pace during the year as the Girls Tennis Team improved their record after only three years in existence. The racket squad won only two matches last season, but managed five victories during 1978.

Chris Gora, senior, was named Most Valuable Player at the Spring Sports Banquet. Other outstanding contributions were made to the squad by number one doubles players Barbara Banning and Lisa Zimnawoda.

Sometimes it may seem "all work and no play." It is difficult to refuse a party invitation or miss your favorite TV program merely for the sake of study.

The student may struggle through five days of class and homework, and just when he begins to believe that he can take no more it's Friday. And thank God it is!

Anxious eyes concentrate on the classroom clock and minds mentally tick off the minutes until 2:10. Freedom! The weekend is here and pleasure seeking is the order of the day.

It 'ain't no' foreign tongue

Shakespeare was alive and well, and coming alive in senior English Classes. Students re-inacted a scene from the Bard's tragedy, "Macbeth." The group members also constructed projects concerning "Macbeth" and Shakespeare.

Some freshman English Classes wrote their own poetic experiences about coming back to life, based on the Spoon River Anthology.

Junior English class members were required to write epitaphs for their instructor.

The difficulties of selling a product were tackled by Journalism I classes. The group produced their own commercials using cassettes and slides. Yearbook and Newspaper classes worked on securing a sound financial basis. Both groups operated with less than fifteen students.

Sound strange to your ear?

Parley-vous francais? Hablas tú español? Students are offered four different languages at Calumet in order to find the answers to those questions.

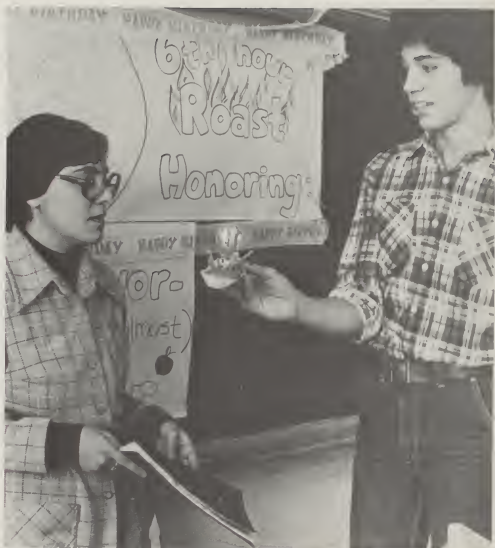

Spanish classes cooked native dishes in the school's home economics room where students gathered to taste a variety of Spanish foods.

'Add'n and subtract'n'

Shaking test tubes and solving complicated equations were part of everyday academic life at CHS.

Science classes at Calumet are more than just "double, double toil and trouble." Modern day science students gained lab experience that will help them if they choose a medical or scientific career.

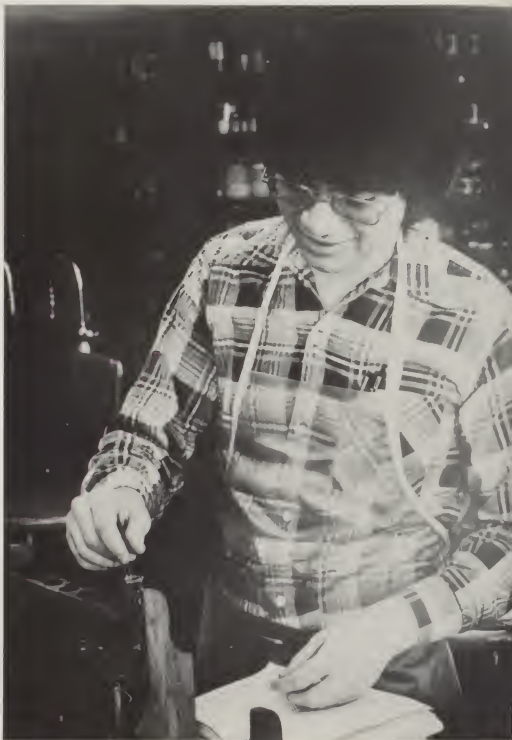

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award is given annually to a student who attains the highest scholastic standing in science subjects. The winner this year was senior Alex Azcona.

Mathematics is far from just adding two plus two. Advanced classes covered many technical areas. Students in these classes were given a presentation by a representative from the Bell and Howell Company's technical schools. The program was designed to acquaint the student with electronics and technology. The representative then answered the group's questions in the auditorium in April.

In our own little world

Society is a complex network of science and humanity working together. Courses in the social science area were designed to acquaint students with the institutions and their functioning in human society.

John Williams, a representative from International Telephone and Telegraph, ITT, Technical Institute addressed the government and economics classes on April 13 on the cost of living and economic conditions.

Mr. George Ahlgrim's psychology and sociology students visited courtroom action in Gary in the Fall. The groups, along with the instructor's history classes, and Mr. Dorothy Hepp's Health Occupations students visited Beatty Memorial Hospital in April. The groups toured the hospital's grounds and research library.

Fine arts find home

The "finer" arts received a "shot in the arm" with the addition of the new auditorium. Although primarily a facility for the music and drama areas, the art classes found a way to contribute.

Mr. Roy Wilson's art students created a four by six feet mosaic mural for the auditorium.

The school also added new drama classes designed to allow students to participate in, and learn more about the theater. Drama classes were held in the auditorium following completion, and the group performed at the dedication ceremonies in May.

Drama students also presented productions for other schools in the area. Members of the class performed a creative dance to the song "Short People" at the Lake Ridge Junior High Wrestling Banquet in February. Members also attended plays performed by area university students and professional productions.

Band and Chorus held their annual Christmas and Spring Concerts. The Spring performance was presented in the new auditorium. The groups included a tribute to Hollywood, Broadway and television in their program.

Co-ed Phys Ed!

"Keeping fit" is a basic part of student life. Physical Education and health are a required part of a student's curriculum.

Physical Education at Calumet went "co-ed" in 1978. Several classes included members of both sexes. However, some classes remained for students wishing separation.

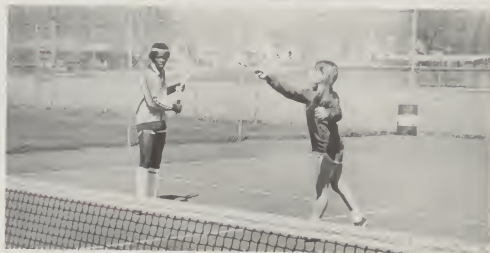

This year students were also allowed to choose the areas in which they wished to participate if selecting a co-educational class. Members could play volleyball, basketball, or a fast game of racquetball.

The Lake County Parks and Recreation Department sent several karate instructors to Calumet in December. The students gathered at an assembly to watch the karate instructors give a demonstration of the sport.

Students are required to take one semester of health to graduate. During the year students discussed not only physical, but mental health problems and facts.

It's more than routine

"Fingers flying across a key-board" in business classes does not refer to a musical instrument, instead it describes the busy inferno of voices and typewriters constituting the vocational areas. The business department is composed of typing, shorthand, accounting and business machines.

Top: Mrs. Sandra Juratic, business instructor, reviews the day's lesson with her first year accounting students.

'No place like home?'

"Practically" speaking, students participated in courses in industrial arts and home economics which were designed to equip students with skills in the practical arts field.

Members of metal shop classes completed projects in construction of tack hammers, vices, and non-functioning cannons. Examples of their work were displayed in the main showcase by the office.

Cooking classes planned and prepared meals to complete course requirements. Simple garments were tackled by beginning sewing students, while more difficult pieces of clothing were completed by advanced classes.

Printing programs for special activities was one of the major functions of graphic arts classes. Students completed programs for the Warriorette Concert, the COE Banquet and the Honor Society Induction.

Students in woods and drafting classes worked on individual projects during the year. Welding participants concentrated on achieving competency in the execution of various welds.

We made it our business!

Whether it be the world of cash registers or typewriters, Calumet's Vocational curriculum was designed to integrate the job with the classroom.

Job placement in area businesses was a major function of Industrial Cooperative Education (I.C.E.), Distributive Education Cooperative of America (DECA), Health Occupations (H.O.) and Cooperative Office Education (COE).

Cooperative Office Education students practiced exercises designed to increase skills in typing letters, dictation and shorthand.

Members of DECA classes concentrated on increasing sales skills. Students were required to demonstrate a mock sales discussion in class.

Left: Tammy Cook, junior, types out correspondence for Tri-G, while senior Aletha Hollingsworth checks the catalog for an order. Both are members of COE.

Book time plus work time

Health Occupations and Industrial Cooperative Education integrated classroom studies with practical work experience to teach students health care and industrial work.

Health Occupations classes had a "dummy" volunteer for classroom instruction. The lifesize mannequin was used by students to practice Cardio-pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) drills. The "volunteer" was also used to increase student skills in the care of bed-ridden patients.

Industrial Cooperative Education classes were involved in many projects during the year. The class sponsored a dance and put together Christmas care baskets with C-Teens. They also participated in the Employer-Employee Vocational Banquet.

Regional and state contests were goals that I.C.E. members worked towards. The State Leadership Contest, Regional Skill Olympics, and The State Skill Contest were the major competitions of the year.

Every student encounters those first few days in a new building. Each unsure freshman shoves his way through crowded halls with a sea of unfamiliar faces.

Fortunately that "identity crisis" lasted only a short time. Soon the student became familiar with every "nook and cranny" as well as the rules and (sometimes) how to avoid them.

However, at the beginning of each school year there are all of those eager new faces. And as each year passes, you know fewer and fewer of the names that match those faces. Identities sometimes become lost in the shuffle. But perhaps the greatest shock comes years later when those identities fade from memory.

In Pursuit Of . . . IDENTITY

Dreams do come true!

The realization of their dreams came true for the administration and the Lake Ridge School Board on April 14, 1978. The Calumet auditorium presented its first performance The Dean Scott Dancers. The facility was completed after several delays in construction.

The school board passed a five year plan during the Spring. The action was taken in an effort to plan for Lake Ridge Schools on a long term basis.

Also during the Spring new school board members were elected. Mrs. Dorothy Sopko won a school board seat against Mrs. Valerie Fadul. Mrs. Sopko has served previously on the board and is a long time member of the community.

Ceramics proves more than just fad to Wilson

For over 27 years, Mr. Roy Wilson, art teacher, has taken an active interest in the field of ceramics.

Ceramics, as a hobby, has become quite popular in the past few years. Therefore,

Mr. Wilson, to keep pace with the fad, has opened a shop in the Valparaiso area.

The art instructor teaches five courses in art at Calumet.

Graham insists her horse is no old gray mare

Pam Graham, freshman, prefers real "horse power" as a means of locomotion. Pam's favorite hobby is raising and showing horses.

The freshman has been pursuing her equestrian hobby since she was three years of age. She owns three horses, and intends to enter one in the State Fair this summer.

Pam's other activities include Warriorettes, the pom pon squad at CHS.

Why would anyone enjoy skinned elbows and shins? The thrill of skateboarding for Tammy Majeski, freshman, seems to make up for the hazards of the sport.

Tammy began pursuing the hobby about one year ago. The freshman practices approximately two hours every day.

The 15 year-old plans to spend a great deal of time on the skateboard during the summer at Lemon Lake in Cedar Lake.

Watson teaches young how to float, stroke

Calming the fears of the young is one of the major accomplishments of Patty Watson, freshman. Patty is a swimming instructor once a week at the local YMCA.

The freshman has been teaching children, age three to six, the fundamentals of swimming for the past year.

Aside from her swimming activities, Patty is also a member of the school band.

One of the ways junior Marcia Cunningham keeps in "tune" is by singing with a local band.

Marcia is a member of the group, "Innervision." The band is managed by Cedric Brown, owner of Gantser Lean Productions.

The junior is the lead singer and is in a duet group.

Marcia plans a career in singing and dancing following high school graduation.

Marcia's other activities at CHS include Warriorettes (pom pon squad) and Student Involvement Club.

Mores finds U.S. 'Roots'

Although raised in Niteroi, Brazil, exchange student junior Alex Mores was born and has his "roots" in Nashville, Tennessee. The junior was born in the southern city.

Alex plans to finish his schooling at Calumet. Following graduation, the exchange student hopes to study oceanography.

Alex was a member of the volleyball team at his school in Brazil. He also participated in sailboat races in his country.

The exchange visitor is living with the Roland Wisor family in the Calumet Township community.

Do you remember?

Remember the record snow fall and sub-zero temperatures last year? Bur-r-r-r, thank goodness NIPSCO requested that area schools close for three days, thus allowing students to remain snug under the bed covers instead of out on a frigid road waiting for a yellow bus.

Remember peanuts and a new "Dixie" president with a grin wider than Alice's Cheshire cat? Jimmy Carter became president and brought along a rather "colorful" collection of family members into the public eye with him.

Sports action last year included the 1976 Olympics in Montreal. Calumet had a very "special" contribution to those games when graduate Rhonda Brady became a member of the U.S. Women's Track and Field Team.

Unfortunately the yearbook staff had a rather bitter memory in 1977. They learned too late what happens when an irresponsible person is placed in charge of a section of the book. All of the apologies offered (by members not at fault) could not lessen the blow for the twelve students who were omitted from the senior section of the yearbook. Therefore, these two pages are dedicated to those individuals of the Class of 1977.

Below: It's no "snow job!" Citizens of Buffalo, New York spent a good deal of the winter of 1976-77 trying to shovel out. The Gary area escaped much of the "frosty white stuff" dumped on the nation's East Coast, but suffered the coldest temperatures in recorded history.

Renicker 'brushes up' on oil painting hobby

Getting just the right colors to satisfy her artistic desire is one of the most difficult aspects of oil painting for April Renicker, senior.

Painting and drawing, one of the oldest hobbies, is a specialty of this senior. April became interested in landscape oil painting at age 15. She enjoys "browsing" through museums and viewing the works of the "masters."

Although she mainly works in oils, April also "dabbles" in water colors. Following completion of her work, the senior frames her finished products. However, she is still unable to part with any of her "creations."

While attending Calumet, April participated in Band, Office Education Association (OEA), Pep Club, C-Teens, Chemistry Club and Girls Track.

Travis teeters elbow bread

Watch your pocket change, 'cause senior Spencer Travis makes "coin snatching" his personal hobby.

Unofficially, Spencer has broken the world record of "snatching" 39 coins on his elbow. Where did he receive the idea for stacking "dough?" He saw a similar demonstration of "money mania" on the "Tonight Show."

What's next? The senior hopes to attain the goal of $48.50. Next? Perhaps Moscow Olympics in 1980.

Below: After a day of hard work, junior Lisa Zimnawoda and sophomore John Oaks recall the day's events over "snacks and sodas."

Far right: Checking to make sure she has the "perfect fit" is Rasa Raudonis, sophomore.

Money may not alone bring happiness, but it can certainly improve dating!

People, especially teens, often find it difficult to have a good time without the "good old" "root of all evil."

Inflation has even invaded the fantasies of the mind. Once people dreamed of money trees with branches from which sprouted green currency. Today such a tree would have to be a "year 'round bloomer" in order to keep pace with prices that increase every day.

The school's patrons and advertisers were especially supportive of this year's annual. The staff collected extra advertising which enabled them to add some "special touches" to this book.

Far below: Limbering up before a Cross Country meet are sophomores George Stevens and Mark Buffington.

In Pursuit Of . . . DESTINATION

The pursuit . . . where does it lead? The journey is an unsure one for most students. Every individual pursued his own route in 1978, which provided a variety of destinations as goals.

School members united during the basketball sectionals to clinch the Sportsmanship Trophy. For seven years area teams had been traveling to the CHS fieldhouse to compete in sectional action. During those seven years the trophy was always just out of reach of the hosting Warriors. CHS realized their seven year dream in 1978!

A new auditorium was also part of a long planning project. Construction was delayed many times. However, Spring brought not only flowers, but also an end to the wait when the $700,000 facility was opened.

The journey was not always as pleasant as the pursuits listed above. We sniffled and coughed our way through various strains of flu. "Victoria" was present, and as majestic as usual, but the Russian Flu received more publicity, probably because of "foreign intrigue." Remember those red bumps that appeared on fellow students' faces following Easter vacation? As the measles hit, CHS students were sent home hour by hour.

"Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow," seemed to be the only realistic philosophy concerning the weather. Record snowfalls will some day allow today's students to tell their grandchildren about the "good old" blistery winter they suffered in high school.

The road was sometimes a "teary" one. Fans cheered on the Warriors. They cried tears of joy at wins, and also shared in their sorrowful losses.

Two new sports facilities were completed for use during the year. Baseball received a "bonus" when their field was completed, and their spikes sunk down for the first time into home turf. Two new courts were also welcomed by the girl's and boy's tennis teams.

Individual achievements in academics, sports and community pursuits were too numerous to include. Team effort in work and play was overshadowed only by the feats of individual achievement awards, and trophies will later be treasured mementos of CHS life.

Yes, this year was unique. No other year was, or ever will be quite the same.

Has the destination been reached? For Seniors it is the end of a long journey through the school. However, underclassmen must look ahead, down the road and continue their journey. And the destination . . .

Like a complicated soap opera, the manner in which something will end is never quite known. Moving through life is like a long and winding journey, in which one never knows the eventual outcome. Sometimes there is a questioning of where the path is leading. However, as one pursues the shining speck of light in the distance, one hopes that at the end of the darkness is the desired destination.

In Pursuit Of . . .
